Important Notice

The rules and regulations of Inova Loudoun Hospital have been revised and presently do not include the ability for CNM's to care for patients with certain risk factors. It is LCM's mission to serve the women of Northern Virginia to the fullest extent of our license and scope of practice. We proudly started LCM at Inova Loudoun 14 years ago, and have supported women's choices for how they birth ever since. In order to continue to serve all our patients, we have decided to transition to Stone Springs hospital over the next few months.

We have enjoyed our time at Loudoun and will continue to support their efforts to increase the scope of Midwifery practice in the future.

We will continue to deliver at The Birthing Inn and the Natural Birth Center during this transition period. While this is a very exciting opportunity for LCM and Midwifery, we realize this will impact a large number of our patients in the short term, and for this we are deeply sorry. We will work with each patient affected to find them the provider and facility that will best suit their birth wishes.

We encourage all our patients to attend one of our informational sessions on this transition for more information. Please see dates and locations below.
